

THE THIRTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Central Free Dispensary

of West Chicago

For the Year Ending November 30, 1898

With the Charter and By-Laws

Located in the Building of the Rush Medical College
N. E. Corner Wood and Harrison Streets

The Central Free Dispensary

This is one of the oldest dispensaries in the city, the object of which is to furnish so far as possible the sick poor with medical attendance and medicine gratuitously, and to accomplish this work in the most faithful manner and at the least possible expense.

All feasible means are taken to exclude unworthy applicants from the benefits of this charity, especially those who are able to pay a physician.

It is economical to the taxpayers, for it keeps many of the sick poor and their families from becoming a charge upon the county, in the hospitals and almshouse.

It is dependent upon voluntary contributions for aid in its support, and therefore asks donations annually.

Send the management a donation if it affords you pleasure to do so.

TO THE PUBLIC

In submitting the Thirty-Second Annual report, the Directors of the Central Free Dispensary present a concise business statement of what has been accomplished during the year; leaving readers to draw their own conclusion whether the administration and the results are such as to justify renewed co-operation.

The demands upon this Dispensary have increased with our growing population and the stringency of the times. Smaller contributions have lessened our resources, and we find it difficult to meet the necessities of our unfortunate poor. 29,539 visits were made in the past year, and patients were provided free of charge with medicines, bandages, splints, and other necessary articles.

For your thoughtful consideration we would respectfully state that at the Central Free Dispensary chronic diseases are mainly treated. The working class is generally able to pay physicians' bills in acute cases of disease, but this is not the case in diseases and disabilities where extensive surgical operations are required, or where the treatment is to be one of long standing, or the case, otherwise incurable, requires long-continued supervision.

It is in this special field in which our work is eminently useful.

The best medical and surgical skill that could be procured in the Northwest has been placed at the disposal of such patients as required its aid.

The consulting staff of the Dispensary are members of the Faculty of Rush Medical College, and are the consultants and attendants in many obscure and difficult cases of disease and operations where skillful diagnosis and technique are required.

The consulting, attending, and visiting physicians, whose work is entirely gratuitous, have faithfully attended to their duties during the past year, and have materially advanced the interests of the Dispensary. The directors desire to express their heartfelt thanks to these gentlemen.

An institution which provides gratuitous medical services without restriction encourages imposture, fosters pauperism, and defrauds the medical profession of a just source of income. For these reasons the house physician of the Dispensary states to every applicant that the benefits of this charity are intended for those only who are unable to pay for the same. We have by this method gradually reduced the number of applicants for gratuitous services who are able to pay a physician. Still further to encourage self-respect and diminish pauperism, we continue to request patients, if they are able to do so, to contribute something, however trifling, towards the cost of maintaining the Dispensary.

The cost of each visit to the Dispensary during the year has been 14 $\frac{3}{4}$ cents, and the patients have voluntarily contributed towards this on an average of 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ cents a visit.

We thank the public for the sympathy and support it has shown our institution in years gone by, and are confident that it will not withhold its helping hand during the year.

A DESCRIPTION OF THE METHODS OF CONDUCTING THE DISPENSARY WORK.

Any person in need of medical advice calls at the Dispensary and enters the reception room. He states his troubles to the house physician, and, if unable to pay a physician's fee, is directed to sit and await his turn on the benches of the proper attending physician. As he takes his seat he sees that out of two sides of the reception room there open nine smaller rooms, each of which is the office of an attending physician for a different class of disease.

Near the doors of these various rooms are grouped many persons who, like himself, are waiting an opportunity to have an interview with the particular physician for their own ailment.

His turn comes and he enters the room of the physician. The interview which follows does not differ from those which all persons have with their physicians. This physician is one who at other times of the day may be busy at his office, or visiting a wealthier class of patients, and for whose advice you would have to pay a considerable fee. Examination and treatment follow each other as in such cases, and the patient receives his prescriptions and directions.

As the patient leaves the room he goes to the druggist's office, on the other side of the reception room, to have the prescription filled. The patient receives his medicine, prepared and marked with full directions for use. He repeats his visits as often as necessary.

Cases of complicated character, and those that require serious surgical operations, are referred to our consulting physicians and surgeons, who institute such treatment as is indicated.

Fifty-eight physicians give their time gratuitously to treat and prescribe for all who apply during the appointed hours.

A patient visiting the Dispensary knows that when a member of his family is too sick to come to the Dispensary, there are a number of excellent physicians who answer, free of charge, any calls which may be registered at the Dispensary. The out-door work has been divided into districts, and a physician placed in each district to visit therein.

By these direct and simple methods a vast number of sick poor have been relieved.

HISTORY.

The Central Free Dispensary of West Chicago was organized in 1867, under the title of the Brainard Free Dispensary, and incorporated under its present title on April 1, 1873. At different periods for nine years it occupied small rooms at 232 W. Randolph St., 79 W. Madison St., 95 W. Randolph St., 136 N. Sangamon St., and 239 W. Van Buren St. It was supported at first entirely by private donations. These were supplemented from 1870 to 1884 by an annual appropriation from the Board of County Commissioners of Cook County, ranging from $500 to $1,000.

During the two years following the disastrous fire of October, 1871, the work of the Dispensary was greatly increased by the increased number of destitute sick. Much of this work was performed under the auspices of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society, which, in 1873, donated to the Dispensary as a fund the sum of $4,000.

In 1873 the Herrick Free Dispensary was founded under the auspices of the Relief and Aid Society, to assist in relieving the destitution caused by the recent disaster. The Dispensary occupied rooms on Wright street near Twelfth street, and confined its task to the care of the sick poor in the southern portion of the West Division.

In 1873 this new Dispensary, to which the Relief and Aid Society had donated as a permanent fund the sum of $5,000, was united with the Central Dispensary under one organization. The medical boards of the two institutions having been united, the two superintendents continued in office, each with special duties. By this union the Central Free Dispensary was in possession of a fund of $9,000, which was increased by other contributions to $11,000.

In 1876 the Dispensary removed to its present more spacious accommodations in the lower story of the new Rush Medical College, corner of Harrison and Wood streets. These rooms are secured for a long term of years at a rental which can never exceed $660 a year. By special arrangements with the College, this rent has been, since 1888, $330 a year, only half the amount originally contemplated, the other half, $330, being added each year to the permanent fund. These accumulations, together with interest account, have added $8,500 to the permanent fund, making a total of $19,500. The principal, or fund, has been securely invested in bonds and securities, and the income derived from it is dispensed in the charitable work for which this organization was created. In addition to this, the Dispensary is the recipient of the income derived from a legacy known as the "John Phillips Fund," and left by him to the trustees of Rush Medical College, to be held in trust for dispensary purposes. This fund amounts to $7,743.81, and yields an annual income of about $380.

In return for the money thus given to the Dispensary, and for the accommodations provided at such low rent, is accorded to the students of the College the privilege of studying the diseases of the patients, and of observing their treatment by the Medical Board of the Dispensary.

The direct benefits which have been bestowed upon destitute sufferers can be but partially measured by the statistics herewith presented.

The indirect benefits cannot be measured by any statistics, nor by any standard, such benefits, we mean, which young men receive while pursuing the study of medicine, and which the communities in which they are to labor secure in the services of educated physicians.

The Dispensary is also assisted by the annual contributions of a number of generous citizens, who remember the poor in their sickness and misfortune.

With the great growth of the city has also grown the number of destitute and worthy applicants for this relief, and the income at the command of the Trustees is insufficient to meet the wants of the suffering multitude. It is hoped that the contributions will be largely increased to meet these needs.

INVITATION TO VISITORS.

All who desire to obtain a personal knowledge of the necessity of such an institution, its practical benefits to the sick poor, and its claims on the liberality of our citizens, are invited to visit the Dispensary and judge for themselves.

LOCATION AND HOURS.

The Dispensary is located on the northeast corner of Harrison and Wood streets, and is open daily from 2 to 4 p. m.—excepting Sundays and holidays—for the gratuitous treatment of the sick poor.

The Central Free Dispensary of West Chicago, and “The Trustees of the Rush Medical College” of Chicago, believing that the work of carrying on a Free Dispensary in the City of Chicago will be thereby advanced, and that the duty of the authorities of said college under the will of the late John Phillips, of Chicago, to establish a dispensary will thereby in the interest of humanity be fulfilled, have entered into and do enter into the following agreement, to continue ninety-five (95) years:

SECTION 1.—The said Central Dispensary agrees to loan to the Trustees of said college eleven thousand dollars ($11,000.00) [of which sum nine thousand dollars ($9,000.00) was donated by the Chicago Relief and Aid Society] for ninety-five (95) years, and to receive interest thereon at the rate of six per cent (6 per cent) per annum, payable semi-annually. The authorities of the college to give as security for said loan a first mortgage on their college property, which includes the lot (100 x 147 feet) on the northeast corner of Harrison and Wood streets, in the City of Chicago, and all its buildings and belongings. This loan to be perfected as soon as the college acquires a clear title to the said property. It is further agreed that should at any time one full year pass and the college fail to pay the interest on the said loan, the loan shall, if the said Dispensary so elects, be terminated, and the full amount of both principal and interest shall then be due and payable.

SEC. 2.—The Trustees of the college agree to provide rooms for the use of said Dispensary in their college building, to be built on the lot above referred to; said rooms to be situated on the basement floor of the said building, said floor to be not more than three feet below the street grade, to be well lighted, to have a superficial area (floor space) of at least five thousand (5,000) square feet, to have a height of at least twelve, and to be partitioned and arranged as the Directors of the said Dispensary may direct, and they do hereby lease said rooms to said Dispensary for the term of ninety-five (95) years. And the said rent shall be paid by the said college by being deducted from any actual payments of interest accruing out of the said Phillips Dispensary fund, which payments are made by the Trustees of the said college to the said Central Dispensary according to the terms of this agreement and in no other way or manner whatsoever.

SEC. 3.—The said Trustees of the said College, to the end that they may establish a Free Dispensary in the City of Chicago, according to the provisions of the will of the late John Phillips, do hereby agree to pay and turn over to the said Central Dispensary the whole interest from time to time accruing out of the Phillips Dispensary fund, of which they are Trustees; that now in their possession to be turned over at once, and that in prospect as soon as they shall come in possession of it. The said Dispensary hereby agrees to use the income from the said fund in maintaining as hereinafter specified a Free Dispensary for the City of Chicago.

SEC. 4.—The said Dispensary agrees to establish and to carry on and maintain, in the rooms herein above agreed to be leased to them in said College building during the continuance of said agreement, a Free Dispensary for the City of Chicago; the same to be carried on in the manner provided in said will of said John Phillips as nearly as may be and under such rules as the Faculty of said College may approve, such Dispensary to be established within six months after the completion of the said College building.

SEC. 5.—The said Faculty by this agreement approve the By-Laws and rules of the said Board of Directors of the said Dispensary now in force as rules under which the aforesaid Dispensary may be conducted. But there shall, during the continuance of this agreement, be no change in said By-Laws that will lessen the amount and character of the Dispensary work done, without the consent of the said Faculty, any other changes being permitted. No person shall at any time be appointed Medical Superintendent of said Dispensary work without the consent of said Faculty to such appointment.

SEC. 6.—The Central Dispensary aforesaid shall see that as far as it is practicable during the session of Rush Medical College the cases coming to said Dispensary shall be used by the attending physicians for clinical purposes and that they, the said physicians, give the clinics faithfully and in the interest of sound medical education. The students of the said College shall not during the continuance of this agreement be denied admission to the same clinics, nor shall they during this time be charged any fees for the same without the consent of the said Faculty of said College.

SEC. 7.—The Clinical Professors of Rush College shall be allowed to use any of the clinical material of the said Dispensary for clinical purposes in the College rooms, provided that this shall always be done with the approval of the Medical Superintendent of the Dispensary and with the consent of the attending physicians in whose department such material shall fall.

SEC. 8.—This agreement is not intended to deprive the Directors of said Central Dispensary of any right they now have to establish other dispensing stations in West Chicago than their chief dispensary.

In WITNESS WHEREOF, The Trustees of the said Rush Medical College do execute this agreement by the President thereof, and by causing the corporate seal of said College to be hereunto affixed, the attestation of the Secretary of said Board of Trustees being also hereunto subscribed, and in pursuance of a resolution of the Board of Directors of the Central Free Dispensary of West Chicago, the corporate seal of said corporation is hereunto affixed and these presents duly signed by the President and Secretary of the said Central Free Dispensary this ninth day of June, A.
